

RAILROAD MEN
OUT ON STRIKEOver Three Thousand Employees of the Grand Trunk Quit.

OTHER WORKMEN AFFECTED

Five Thousand Engaged in Shop Work Will Be Laid Off Temporarily.
Telegraphers Will Not Join Strikers.
Wage Dispute Will Be Referred to Arbitration and Both Sides Will Accept the Award.Montreal, July 19.—A strike of the conductors and trainmen of the Grand Trunk railway has begun, which, it is claimed, will tie up the entire system from Portland, Me., to Chicago.Three thousand and five trainmen and conductors on the Grand Trunk and 350 on the Central Vermont, a subsidiary line, are affected directly by the strike. In addition, 5,000 men engaged in shop work will be temporarily laid off.The Grand Trunk railway telegraphers will not strike with the trainmen and conductors, as had been promised.
The word from the conference is that the wage dispute will be referred to arbitration with the understanding that both sides will accept the award.Under the terms of the strike order trains which begin their runs before 9:30 are to be taken through to the terminals by the men in charge. After that the company is expected to look after its own interests. The developments of the day previous to the calling of the strike were explained as follows in a statement issued by the company."Messrs. Berry and Murdoch, with a committee representing the Grand Trunk trainmen and yardmen, met the officers of the company and advised that they had received the authority of a large majority of our trainmen to order a strike in the event a settlement was not reached with the company."A general discussion of the situation took place, during which we advised them that we were not in a position to do more than had been offered in our former proposition, giving the men an increase of approximately 18 per cent, with the further promise that they should be given the same standard rate of pay as the Canadian Pacific as soon as the Grand Trunk, through its relation with the Grand Trunk Pacific, is in a position to participate in the higher rates obtaining on traffic in the Northwest. It was explained that if there was any question of indefiniteness as to the date when the standardization was to take effect we would agree that it should be not later than Jan. 1, 1913, or earlier if the board of railway commissioners, upon hearing the facts in the case, should so determine.

Not Considered Satisfactory.

"This was not considered satisfactory and the conference was adjourned until the afternoon, when we were handed the schedule of rates of pay and rules which are practically the Eastern standard."The reply was made that we could do no better than what had already been offered and we had no further propositions to make."In the meantime we shall make effective the rules and rates of pay offered by the company.To this President Hays added: "We have done the best we can, having regard to the interests of the shareholders and of the men themselves.
We have offered substantial increases in wages. For instance, we give conductors between Montreal and Portland an increase from $110 to $125; between Montreal and Rockville from $90 to $140 a month; between Montreal and Toronto from $110 to $140, and baggagemen from $70 to $85 and brakemen from $55 to $60 to $80."On mileage rates conductors of through trips are to be raised from 2.90 to 3.36 cents a mile and brakemen from 1.90 to 2.25 cents."On the runs between Montreal and Ottawa conductors are raised from $110 to $140 a month, baggagemen from $75 to $85 and so on."When I put this to the men I said that if they did not think it satisfactory I was willing to go to the arbitration of a board of expert railway men as to whether or not the proposition was fair and would be willing to abide by their decision."But they refused to listen to this."
Vice President Murdoch of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen issued a statement on the strikers' side of the controversy, in which he related the transactions of the final conference with the road officials. Murdock declared that the ultimate proposition of the road was far from acceptable and was therefore flatly refused."He proposes to perpetuate existing conditions and in some ways make them much more objectionable, since there would be greater inequalities than in the past," said Mr. Murdoch.
"There is a protective fund of $1, 000,000 back of us now and there will be no difficulty in getting $350,000 a month to keep the strike going. The full protective features of both the conductors and trainmen's unions will be given, with payment of strike pay of $50 a month to conductors and $35 a month to members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen."

GOOD IN SPOTS.

One Man Who Discovered That War
Was Not Wholly Bad.Lem Jackson loved to loaf. He lived in the mountains not far from Greenville, Tenn., with his wife and a large brood of children. Lem had a "boundary" that he set great store by, and he spent most of his time lounging in a runway waiting to shoot a deer driven in by old Rose or sprawling on the bank of a stream fishing. In that way he was a good provider after a fashion, but not all the urging, scolding, nagging and broomsticking of his shrewish wife could drive him to work.Lem led the lazy life of a Rip Van Winkle until the outbreak of the civil war, and then he joined the Confederate army. At the end of six months Lem was shot through the right thigh, and it was long before he was able to limp out of the hospital and back to his regiment. In the second year he was shot in the left shoulder, and when he returned to duty his left hand was bent far back by a shortened tendon, but he was still able to raise his rifle.
Early in the fourth year they got him again—a musket ball through the body —but he was back in the ranks long before the fighting was ended. Everyone wondered at Lem's persistence in sticking to the terrible trade of war.Dr. Girdner met Lem hobnobbing down the street in Greenville one morning in June, 1865, still pale and weak from his latest wound, his right leg short and wobbly, his left hand stiffly bent back."Glad to see you alive, Lem," said the doctor. "I suppose you're glad to be home again."
"Waal," Lem admitted without enthusiasm, "I s'pose I had to git erlong home. Gin'ral Lee he surrindred us down to Appomattox, an' we all had to go home.""But aren't you glad to be away from the dangers of war?""Why, doc, war hain't so bad," cried honest Lem—"war hain't so bad.
There's lots of days when you don't have nothin' to do."—Harper's Weekly.

A GAME OF BALL.

How It May Strike a Stranger Who Sees It For the First Time.Nothing has set America so high in the estimation of foreign nations, says Ellis Parker Butler in Success Magazine, as the adoption of baseball as the national sport. If a foreign spy wanders into America seeking to fathom our real inwardness and sees a game of baseball any feeling of contempt for our newness gives way instantly to awe-struck admiration. At his first glance baseball is to him a mystery, and it remains a mystery to him. He sees 30,000 men and women suffering the tortures of the lower regions on hot grand stands. He sees a man pick up a small white ball as hard as a pine knot. Facing him is another man who looks a smooth but deadly club in his hands. Behind this second man is a third man whose face is hidden behind a birdcage. Suddenly the man with the ball raises one foot in the air and shows the man with the bat the sole of his shoe. The man at the bat sees that there are spikes in the sole of the shoe, and it angers him, and he raises his bat to throw it at the man with the ball. But—ah, ha!—the man with the ball is too quick for him. He throws the hard, white ball at the man with the bat with all his strength. The man with the bat waves defiance by swinging the bat in the air. The ball proceeds. The batsman never flinches!
Will the ball kill the man or will the impact crush the ball? But, see! The ball finds man unflinching; the ball is panic-stricken; the ball dodges around the man; the ball is lost, buried in the huge leather chair cushion that covers the hand of the birdcage man behind the batsman! "Strike one!" says the umpire. Thirty thousand cheers!

Grub Street's Pawnshop.

If the Avant is not the oldest and best known pawnshop in the world it deserves to be. It has been in existence ever since the days of Shakespeare and Ben Jonson. It is in Fleet street—Grub street—and has been the poor writer's uncle for all these centuries and years. It has an old legend something like this: "Old Literary Friends Never Forget." There are many souvenirs, sayings and traditions of the greatest men on earth who, going broke, had to patronize it.
Outside of its own name it is well known as the Grub street pawnshop.— London Mail.

Unspellable.

The Newfoundland seal folk for some reason not given by the St. John's correspondent of the New York Sun describe their greasy spoils as "swails," and they also say they "spell" an object when they mean to carry it. One can imagine the amazement of the young cleric who on one occasion asked a burly hunter how he spelled "swails.""We don't spell 'em; we haul 'em," was the bewildering reply.

A Cold Bite.

"You were twenty miles from the north pole and starving!" exclaimed the credulous housewife. "And how did you save yourself?"
"Why, mum," responded Grigrid Fred as he wiped away a tear, "in my starving moments I remembered de Eskimo dogs. Pushing out through the snow, I twisted one of der tails, an' den—an' den!"
"And then what, my poor man?"
"I got a cold bite."—Chicago News.

FATAL COLLISION OF TRAINS

Brakeman Killed and Wife of Conductor Badly Hurt.Granite Falls, Minn., July 19.—A wreck occurred on the Milwaukee road a mile and a half east of this place.A heavy gravel train was going up the grade to Minnesota Falls and in a deep cut met the rear end of a construction train backing down. Mrs.
Frank Hewitt, wife of the conductor, was in the caboose, also William Andrews, a brakeman, while Mr. Hewitt and two children were riding on the engine at the other end of the train.Mrs. Hewitt was badly injured, while Andrews had his leg cut off and was so badly hurt he lived but a few hours. Mrs. Hewitt was taken to Minneapolis for treatment.PRESIDENT TAFT WILL NOT DICTATEDecides Not to Favor Any Candidate in Ohio.Beverly, Mass., July 19.—There will be no Beverly label on the Ohio Republican ante-convention situation.
This much was decided upon at the summer White House when, just previous to his departure on a ten days' cruise along the coast of Maine, President Taft had as his luncheon guests Senators Burton and Dick and former Assistant Attorney General Wade Ellis.It is understood that none of the three Ohio visitors urged upon the president the preference of any one candidate for the Republican nomination for governor. The Ohio situation was informally discussed and, while it is known that the president may have some personal preference in the matter, he will not declare in favor of any of the three or four candidates named.It is understood that Senator Burton planned to go direct to his home in Ohio. Senator Dick and Mr. Ellis have arranged to visit Washington.Both Senator Dick and Mr. Ellis agreed that the meeting was entirely satisfactory.The ten days' cruise in Maine waters on board the government yacht Mayflower will afford the president a complete rest, although the trip is taken primarily on Mrs. Taft's account.Charles Taft was one of the first members of the party to board the yacht, with a bucket of clams, which he will use for bait as soon as the Mayflower anchors long enough to afford him an opportunity for fishing.
Those who accompanied the president on the Eastern cruise were Mrs.
Taft, Charles Taft, Horace D. Taft, the president's brother; Professor and Mrs. Louis T. More of Cincinnati, Assistant Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Beekman Whitworth, Miss Mabel Boardman and Captain Archibald W.
Butt, the president's military aide.

Burglars Are Foiled.

La Crosse, Wis., July 19.—Burglars entered the office of the C. L. Coleman Lumber company and attempted to blow the safe, but failed. The discovery was made by employees when they found the rear window of the office open and the combination broken off of the safe. A blacksmith shop several blocks from the office was entered and tools stolen and used in the job.

Moose Creates Disturbance.

Grand Rapids, Minn., July 19.—A huge moose, evidently affected by the excessive heat, created a disturbance in the residence portion of the city by making a half circle through the outskirts, going through fences, gardens, etc., and scaring horses and cattle.

Minnesota Child Drowned.

Montgomery, Minn., July 18.—Edwin Benzick of Lonsdale, the thirteen-year-old son of Martin Benzick, a former resident of this place, was drowned at Wheatland.

LESSONS IN DRY FARMING

Wyoming Congressman Declares That He Is Indebted to South Dakota for the First He Received—Form of Constitution Suggested by the International Congress Adopted—Larsen Talks on Dairying.Rapid City, S. D., July 19.—The executive committee of the first South Dakota dry farming congress met in the business club rooms and adopted the form of constitution suggested by the international congress. One hundred and fifty delegates attended the initial session. President F. W. Mon-dell presided. In the opening address he said:"I am indebted to South Dakota, for I received my first lesson in dry farming from her citizens. At least it was observation of the successful growth of crops in and around the Black Hills without irrigation that led me first to experiments in Wyoming. I have no doubt that you find it difficult, in parts of your state at least, to bring the farmers to realize that the different climatic conditions require different methods. A farmer whose neighbor a few miles farther east has succeeded reasonably well with the methods of culture practiced farther east is likely to argue that there is not sufficient difference in conditions in a few miles to render necessary any change in crops or methods, and therefore I assume that one of the questions which confronts you is where in South Dakota does one reach the region where the practice of so called dry farming methods is necessary to continuous success."This question, in my mind, is of easy solution, for there is but little territory under the sun where the practice of the methods which make farming successful in a region of limited rainfall will not largely increase the prosperity of the farmer.

System of Scientific Farming.

"The necessity which led to the discovery and practice of methods of soil and moisture conservation in regions of scant rainfall, has developed the system of scientific farming, as valuable and useful to the up to date farmer in the East and Middle West as to the farmer of the Western plains and the time is not far distant when the study and practice of these methods will be as general on the partly exhausted soils of the East and the rich loam of the Central West.
Deep plowing to furnish an abundance of water storage; surface tillage to treat the crops and prevent evaporation; proper crop rotation and a periodical or occasional surface cultivation in the summer or fall. These are the methods which are as profitable in regions of average humidity as they are necessary in the land of lesser rainfall."During the afternoon session William Soule presided. Professor Larsen, talking on dairying, said the conservation of farm products was as important as the conservation of the soil because in reality it meant the same thing. Without food which the proper handling of the soil produced the herd would be extinguished.Professor Willis spoke on permanent agriculture, and advised the proper planting and rotation of seed as well as the proper care of the soil both before and after planting. He advocated the proper selection of seed, frequent plowing and was opposed to burning stubble which he maintained enriched the soil.Mark C. Rich addressed the convention on the successful culture of alfalfa, and for over an hour answered questions put to him by delegates on the floor regarding the handling of this important crop.

Two Governors to Attend.

La Crosse, Wis., July 19.—The convention of the grand lodge of the Independent Scandinavian Workmen's association will be held in this city Thursday, Friday and Saturday.
Two hundred delegates from all over the country will be present. Two governors, Davidson of Wisconsin and Eberhart of Minnesota, both of whom are members, have signified their intention to be present if they can arrange their business matters. Large delegations are expected from the Twin Cities and the Dakotas, where the order is particularly strong.

Two Hurt by Explosion.

Pelican Rapids, Minn., July 19.— While Frank Leonard and Scott Ingalls were charging a soda water tank it exploded, damaging the building and injuring both men. Leonard was badly bruised, while Ingalls had his right arm shattered and leg injured. Physicians fear that amputation of Ingalls' arm will be necessary.

Would Live the Lid.

Washington, July 19.—Fred W. Zollner, a man of the Minnesota brewers, went up with Indian Commissioner alerting the suggestion that the recent order in law certain sections of the "Indian country" in Minnesota "dry" territory be lifted so far as Moonhead is concerned. Clay county, in which Moonhead is located, has entirely within the prohibited territory.

HORSE ROLLED OVER WOMAN

Wife of Nebraska Merchant Terribly Injured in Black Hills.Hot Springs, S. D., July 19.—Mrs.
E. B. Penny, wife of a merchant of Fullerton, Neb., met with a fearful accident while on a horseback ride.
The horse fell forward with such force as to turn a complete somersault. The saddle turned and Mrs.
Penny caught her foot in the stirrup.
The horse landed on its back and rolled over her twice. The muscle of her right leg was lacerated by the saddle pommel, the bone above the knee broken in two places, and the sciatic nerve broken. Besides, her shoulder blade was shattered and her collar bone broken. There is hope for her recovery. Mr. and Mrs. Penny have been spending the summer at this resort.ST. PAUL WOMAN MEETS HER DEATHAuto Overturns and Her Injuries Prove Fatal.St. Paul, July 19.—Mrs. Emma Albrecht, a resident of St. Paul since 1856, and wife of Ernest Albrecht, furrier, met her death in a tragic manner in an automobile accident in Bethlehem, Pa., while riding with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rice of that city. After the accident Mrs. Albrecht was taken to the Bethlehem hospital, where she died.Mrs. Albrecht two weeks ago departed with her husband for Pennsylvania. While Mrs. Albrecht was visiting the Rice family, Mr. Albrecht went to New York, where he boarded a steamer for Germany. Two days ago a cablegram announced his safe arrival there.
Mr. and Mrs. Rice took Mrs. Albrecht for a drive in their car, and while touring in the suburbs of Bethlehem the machine was upset, and Mrs. Albrecht was crushed under the car, the other occupants escaping serious hurts. The injured woman was hurried to the hospital, where it was found that she was fatally injured, and that an operation was necessary in order to save her life.Mrs. Albrecht came to the United States from Hanover, Germany, when she was three years old. Her parents located at Bethlehem. She was Miss Marguerite Laurenroth, and she was the oldest child. Her parents are now dead.

ELEVATORS MAY NOT OPEN

Most Grain in North Dakota Will Be Needed for Seed.Jamestown, N. D., July 19.—It is probable that several North Dakota elevator companies will not open their houses this fall. There will be required for seed and home consumption about all the grain that will be raised in the state, taken as a whole. It is not at all probable that there will be a scarcity in flour and no advance in price is anticipated. The Russell-Miller Milling company expects to have all the wheat needed to supply the local demand for flour, and has a large stock of old wheat in various elevators in the state.

Young Man Ends His Life.

Deadwood, S. D., July 19.—Registered as Charles Schriver of Chicago, a young man about thirty, was found dead in a room at a hotel here by a bellboy who broke into the room. He came here from Hot Springs. Some time during the night Schriver had swallowed a quantity of strychnine, but had carefully obliterated all clues to his identification and left no letters.

Farmer Loses Heavily in Fire.

Jamestown, N. D., July 19.—The loss entailed on the S. F. Corwin farm near this city through the destruction by fire of the several big barns on the property will total $25,000. The fire had its origin, supposedly, in spontaneous combustion.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS CASE

Beautiful Young Girl Ends Her Life by Drowning.La Crosse, Wis., July 19.—After a search extending over a day in the swamps, hills and surrounding country, the body of Miss Lulu Branson, aged eighteen, a beautiful young girl, prominent in the social set here, was found in the river within fifteen feet of where she had fastened her big white sailor straw hat to a stone on the bank, evidently to guide the searchers.Returning in an apparently happy mood from a picnic given by the La Crosse Motorboat club, the girl left Will Brezowsky, to whom she was engaged.Placing all her trinkets, money and jewelry in her mother's handbag, she left them with a note saying: "Do not blame me for what I have done. Bill (meaning Brezowsky) is the only friend I have in the world, and don't blame him. Goodbye."The case is shrouded in mystery, and no motive can be assigned. Brezowsky, who is nearly frantic, helped the searchers all day and was one of the first on the scene when the body was recovered.A brother of the dead girl tried to jump into the river when her body was brought to the surface, but was restrained by friends.

STEPHENSON'S SON IS DEAD city and Marinette were shocked by the announcement of the death of Colonel I. Watson Stephenson, oldest son of United States Senator Isaac Stephenson.Colonel Stephenson had just returned from Asheville, N. C., where he had been treated for many months for tuberculosis.His health seemed greatly improved and his death came as a great surprise. He is survived by his wife and a son and daughter. He was thirty-two years old.

ing to Serve—Henry Clay the Only Man Who Had a Longer Service as Speaker Than Uncle Joe.Emporia, Kan., July 19.—Joseph G.
Cannon will not take himself out of the race for speakership of the next house of representatives.This he made plain near the conclusion of his speech at Emporia. He said he would abide by the will of the Republican caucus if the Republicans control the next congress, but that no "muck raking" magazines could make him say he would not be a candidate.
In other words, he said, he would not make an effort to win the speakership, yet the emphasis with which he spoke made it plain that if the Republican caucus should nominate him, he would be willing to serve.

Poverty may be a blessing but it certainly is in disguise.

The people of the northwest will have a chance to hear Theodore Roosevelt at St. Paul on September 6th, at which time he will deliver an address before the conservation meeting.

The Northern Minnesota Development Association has taken up the matter of county exhibits at the state fair and as a result 21 of the 30 or more counties will make an exhibition of the products in their localities.

The defeat of the primary election law in the New York legislature cannot offer an excuse for the repeal of the law in Minnesota, remarks the Alexandria Post-News. Possibly not, but there should be no excuse necessary for the amending of it in several places.

The latest move in First district politics is the consolidation of the Albert Lea Tribune and the Times-Enterprise and the paper will be under the present management of the Tribune, a stalwart republican newspaper supporting Congressman Tawney. This means the collapse of the anti-Tawney movement and insurgency in that district.

The Bemidji Pioneer has figured out that in the United States a baby is born every twelve seconds, a death occurs every twenty-three seconds and a marriage every twenty-four seconds, and connects these circumstances with the begging off of the office boy to attend grandma's funeral—when in reality he attends the ball game—regularly every Saturday.

Congressman Hammond, the one lone democratic member from Minnesota, declines the honor of a gov-ernatorial nomination and says he will file for the congressional position again in a short time. The gentleman has twice been elected and his judgment seems to be that he does not care to become a sacrifice when there is a possibility of a third term in sight for him. "Let John do it," is his advice.

Judge Stanton in a speech before the Chautauqua at Akeley is quoted as stating that there is no more democratic issue before the people than that of county option and his talk along that line was one that would indicate the party is on the point of endorsing the issue. Judge Stanton is a democrat and has been promi-nently mentioned as a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination at the coming convention.

The Stillwater Gazette thinks that "if girls were half as particular about their company as boys are, there would be a different standard of morals in the community," says the Pine County Pioneer. You wouldn't find a boy who claimed any place in the community speaking to a girl who had a reputation of swearing, telling shady stories, drinking or walking the streets with a pipe in her mouth, and yet you will see girls keeping company regularly with these things."

The St. Cloud Times is hastening to tell its Stearns county constituency that if John Lind was elected governor he could not do any damage to the wet condition of the country all he could do "would be to sign a county option bill if the legislature passed it and that would be what the republican candidate for governor would do if elected and a like condition existed." It will be necessary to do more than that if the Stearns county delegation is to be taken to St. Paul solid for the democratic county option candidate.

The Eskimo Baby.
The clothing of the Eskimo baby is often very scanty. In fact, one occasionally sees a baby being carried in its mother's hood with only a cotton shirt on, despite the fact that the thermometer registers 20 degrees below zero. The mother's hood is the baby's cradle. Being made of seal or deer skin, it is warm and wind proof. The infant also has the benefit of the heat of its mother's body and is out of harm's way. If it were laid in a basket cradle in the tent it would be very much in the way and would always be in danger of falling a prey to the wolfish Eskimo dogs that prowled round the door by day and night, ever ready to pick up a dainty morsel.—Wide

THE BIGGEST SMUGGLERS.

They Are Not the Society People Who Get the Advertising.

"Society people are supposed to be the biggest offenders," said a treasury official, "but it is simply that they get more publicity. We had a Harlem butcher who smuggled in $1,000 worth of jewels and then got trapped because he took an orange from the table after lunch. He put the orange in his pocket, and the bulge drew the inspector's attention. He was searched and the jewels found.

"There was, too," he continued re-miniscently, "a noted musician who goes back and forth every year to Paris and who bought a Stradivarius violin one year. He sold his old one and brought the famous Strad back in his own case, covered as it was with custom stamps. Naturally the inspectors passed it, but the musician boasted of his violin, and a dealer who went to see it heard the story of its purchase and notified us.

"There was a man from Naples who came in with his shirt fairly lined with jewels, and there are the Syrians who smuggle in faxes and handkerchiefs, and there are the manufacturers who declare half or three-quarters in and smuggle the rest.

"There are automobile men who bring their machines in with faked certificates of value, and there are buyers of cheap jewelry who bring in great cases of plated brooches and bracelets, etc., with magnificent sapphires, rubies and even diamonds set in with bits of glass, and these necessitate weeks of work for the jewel experts in the appraiser's stores."— Washington Times.

It Looked Suspicious.
"As I was coming out of a store this evening I saw an amusing sight," said a shopper. "A light rain was falling, and as the woman in front of me stopped out she opened her umbrella.
Out of it fell a jeweled hatpin, a pair of gloves and two men's handkerchiefs.
On its face it seemed like a case of shoplifting, but as she gathered up the articles the woman said:

"Well, if here isn't Mary's emerald hatpin and the gloves I was looking for last week and two of George's best handkerchiefs. I never thought of looking in the umbrellas for them."

Expressive.
"Why did Jonah leave the whale?"
"Well, you see, he was 'in wrong.'"

Automobile and Butcher Shop Ordinances Receive First Reading at Council Meeting

R. B. SMART ON W. & L. BOARD

All Water and Light Propositions Referred to Special Com. Meeting Thursday Evening

The city council met in regular session at the city hall last night. All members of the council were present.

By consent of the council the reading of the minutes was dispensed with.

The bill for $6.50 of H. P. Dunn for anti toxin and other medicines was brought up. This was furnished small pox patients and the question to be decided here, as the city attorney stated, was not the furnishing of medicines to paupers but the prevention of the spread of contagion in the city. So the council decided this bill came under the latter clause and ordered the bill paid.

Alderman Robertson produced a bunch of figures to substantiate his claim that the rental of $30 charged the water and light board was a fair monthly rate and the council accepted his view of the proposition.

The special committee of five aldermen having the water and light matters of the city in consideration, gave notice they would meet and confer with Engineer Clausen, the St. Paul engineering expert Thursday evening at the council chambers. This is an open meeting and as this question of light, power and water is the most absorbing and important one at present before the people of Brainerd, a large attendance of citizens is expected.

Alderman Cardle brought up the matter of the Northwest Paper Co., which company, he alleged, was throwing its refuse, bark and waste into the river and contaminating the water supply.

On motion the matter was referred to the board of health to report at a future meeting.

A petition to curb south Ninth street between Front and Maple streets and also have sidewalks laid on said street was presented to the council. It bore the signatures of Roger Peterson, John T. Russell, R. A. Cregar, S. W. Quinn, Mrs. Alice Murray, George Merrill, L. Stallman, Angus McIntosh, R. B. McMeekin, J. S. Robertson, Nels Berglund, J. H. Swanson, Mrs. James Willis, J. F. Vaughn, Mrs. Emma Uddenberg, Harry Langslow, C. A. Berggren, John A. Peterson and J. F. Smart. The petition was referred to the street committee to report at the next meeting.

The question of a sidewalk on Laurel street extending from the market place to the hospital aroused a great discussion. Alderman Hennings started the talk. Alderman Gardner said the walk was a disgrace to the city, that people took to the center of the street instead of attempting to navigate through the sandy path. Alderman Robertson said that years ago he was willing to have a walk put in on the north side but the alderman of the first ward wanted it on the south side. Alderman Drexler favored a walk no matter which side of the street it went. President of the council Twohey said the city could take no action because the condition of the taxes along the section to be improved did not warrant the expenditure of any money. He would entertain no motion to build such a walk by public subscription. Mayor Ousdahl said the walk ought to be built and the matter was referred to the street committee. No action was taken in the matter.

Mayor Ousdahl announced the appointment of R. B. Smart as a member of the Water and Light board to fill the unexpired term left vacant by W. E. Corkery, which appointment was confirmed. Mr. Smart is a machinist at the shops.

At the suggestion of President Twohey, the council took a recess of five minutes until a noisy switch engine subsided.

T. C. Gordon, of the Little Falls Power Co., made the following proposition to the council regarding the furnishing of light and power:

"For the purpose of getting a definite proposition before you as to the cost of current delivered at the city limits of Brainerd, we beg to submit the following:

"This company will construct transmission lines and deliver to the city limits of your city, electric current, for which you are to pay us two and one half cents per kilowatt hour. In our former proposition we placed a minimum quantity of 600,000 K. W. H. per annum, but in this one we are leaving that out altogether and merely ask that all of the current used for power and lighting purposes be purchased from us. The length of time that we would care to enter into a contract would be ten years.

"The reason why we place the point that you are to take the current as being at the city limits is because, if we entered the city limits it would be necessary to give us a franchise to use the streets and alleys with our poles, but if some sort of a special privilege was granted us, we would be pleased to continue our transmission line to your central distributing point.

"We would agree to commence delivering you current within 90 days after the signing of the contract."

Motion carried to refer Mr. Gordon's proposition to the special water and light committee of five aldermen.

The resolution establishing Lateral Sewer "M" in sewer district N. 1, was adopted. There are three branches, one branch to commence in the center of Fir street 20 feet west of the southeast corner of block 222, running thence west in the center of Fir street through the center of said block; one branch to commence in the center of Fir street 20 feet east of the southwest corner of block 222 running thence east in the center of Fir street to the center of said block, said sewer to run thence south through the center of said block 200 across Grove street and thence through the center of block 162 and empty into district sewer No. 1, where the same is laid in Holly street; another branch to commence 20 feet east of the south west corner of block 162 running east along the north side of Holly street and connect with the north and south division of sewer "M" just before the same enters the district sewer. All voted aye.

A resolution was adopted, all voting aye, that a four inch water main be laid on Third avenue from the south side of Prescott street to the north of Ash.

President Twohey announced that as there were now about 200 water mains to be laid, the Water and Light board would soon order a car load of this material and make the necessary improvements.

Ordinance No. 227, entitled an ordinance regulating and licensing butcher stalls, shops and stands for the sale of game, poultry, butcher meats or fish was presented to the council and received its first reading.

The ordinance as prepared by the council licenses this business upon payment of a yearly license fee of $25. Any holder of a license when convicted under the terms of the ordinance shall be deprived of a license for a year thereafter.

Violation of the ordinance will result in a minimum fine of $25 and a maximum fine of $50, or more than 90 days in jail.

Ordinance No. 228 entitled an ordinance establishing sewer district No. 5 and outlining the boundary thereof, received its first reading. This is a district in Northeast Brainerd and covers among other property parts of Fairview and Haines additions.

Ordinance No. 229 entitled an ordinance regulating the use of motor vehicles upon streets, alleys any thoroughfares, and licensing the driver, operator or chauffeur of the same within the city of Brainerd received its first reading.

The ordinance as prepared by the council provides a yearly license fee of $10. The speed limit is set at 8 miles an hour. A person convicted under the terms of the ordinance shall be denied a license for one year. Non-residents do not have to procure a license. Infractions of the ordinance subject the offender to a fine of from $5 to $25 or to serve not less than 10 days nor more than 30 days in jail.

The application of P. E. McCabe for a liquor license at 209 South Fifth street was granted, all voting aye except Alderman Kjellquist.

The liquor license transfer of John Hagen to George LaVoy and George Theis at 502 Laurel street was granted, all voting aye except Alderman Kjellquist.

The petitions of the Commercial club and the upper Mississippi Launch club were presented to the council for consideration and on motion the city attorney and city clerk were instructed to prepare the proper motion wherein the city council endorsed the stand taken by these bodies, and to transmit such statement to Major Shunk at the Grand Rapids hearing, July 20.

Alderman Robertson mentioned the condition of affairs at the North side school where sewer and water pipes were in dangerous proximity. The contractor was ordered to make the necessary change here.

The city clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for grading a part of south Sixth street.

The matter of laying sidewalks on south Fifth street was referred to the street committee.

J. P. Anderson of North Fifth street had a communication on file with the clerk which was read. Mr. Anderson requesting a uniform width of 35 feet between curbing on this street. No action was taken in the matter.

On motion of Alderman Gardner the council adjourned. The next meeting will be Monday evening, August 1st.

Dyspepsia Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the stomach. There is only one way to cure dyspepsia, and that is by constitutional remedies. Dyspepsia is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the stomach. When this is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, dyspepsia is the result, and unless inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Dyspepsia (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

FINANCE COMMITTEE TO RAISE FUNDS

Arrangements Being Made to Carry on Aggressive Campaign for Northern Minnesota Development

ASSESSMENT IS BY COUNTIES

Meeting in Duluth to Devise Ways and Means to Carry on the Work Already Mapped out

A meeting of the finance committee of the Northern Minnesota Development Association was held in Duluth on Saturday the object of which was to outline a plan by which sufficient funds could be raised to carry out the plans of the association in order to get the best possible results and to make an aggressive fight for the rights and improvements of the northern part of the state. F. A. Farrar of this city, is a member of the committee and he reports a very enthusiastic meeting. In order to do the work systematically and to be able to meet conditions as they present themselves the committee decided that a fund of at least $3,000 would be necessary, and the amount to be raised was apportioned by counties and each member of the committee was given a list which he will be expected to cover, the counties being assessed as their interest seemed to warrant, as follows:

Little Falls Man Returns to his Former Home and Pays Bonus for the Old Homestead

The Little Falls Transcript says that "a visit in the western states has convinced D. Thoma, a farmer ing near this city, that Minnesota presents all of the advantages he wishes. In fact, on his return from six weeks' trip through Idaho and

Washington in search of a new farm, he paid $250 to secure the privilege of rebuying his farm, which he disposed of two months before. The new sold for a little more than ter repurchasing the farm, Mr.

Homa refused $500 more than he paid for it."

Why "White-lead" Means more than "Painted"

If all paint were made of pure white lead and pure linseed oil, the term "paint" would mean what most people think it means.
But as all paint is not so made, it is necessary to say: "I want my house 'white-lead'."
Why?—Because white lead paint, mixed at the time of painting to fit the requirements of the surface covered, penetrates the surface with minute tentacles, clings to it, and forms a tough elastic film on the outside which disintegrates slowly, uniformly, smoothly, evenly. That is—it doesn't scale or chip.
This paint is durable—it postpones repainting day, and never needs the steel scraper or gasoline torch before a new coat can be applied.

Murallo, the sanitary wall finish, in all colors, is cheaper and better than wall paper. D. M. Clark & C. 301f

WE ARE READY TO SHOW you how it is cheaper to buy our high class building materials than it is to purchase the poorer kind. We can point to buildings built with our materials that never need repairs.

We can point to some others that need repairs all the time. But they were not built of our materials. So where real cheapness lies?

CLEARING SHIP FOR ACTION.

A Lively Time While the Decks Are Being Stripped of Everything That Would Impede the Fire of the Guns.
Working the Torpedo Nets.

It is a little after two bells in the forenoon watch, or, in shore going talk, 9 a. m., and the officers and men of the battleship wear an expectant air.
The ship's company is fallen in at stations for general exercise. The commander, surrounded by his staff—a midshipman, a bugler and the chief boatswain's mate—is standing on top of the after barbettes. A kind of tense hush is over all hands and, indeed, over the rest of the squadron at anchor in the bay. It is a general drill morning, and the ships of the squadron are about to compete against each other at various evolutions.

On the after bridge the glasses of the signal boatswain and his yeomen are glued on the flagstaff. Presently a couple of gayly colored flags are hoisted at her main. Hardly have they left the rail when the signal boatswain spins round. "Signal's place net defense, sir!" he cries. "Out nets!" bawls the commander. "Out nets!" shout the boatswain's mates. Instantly hordes of men dash at the neat roll of wire nets lying on the shelf round the ship and push it overboard. One edge being held in place, it unrolls as it falls, making a veil on the side.
"Clear the net shelf!" The men vanish. "Man the pump!" Somewhere above a bugle blows out a "G."

The marines, handling large bearing out spars, shove the upper ends of the booms, from which the nets hang, out board. They revolve slowly about their lower ends, which are near the water line and, hauled by the steam capstan on one side and the seamen on the purchase on the other, extend themselves at right angles to the hull.
"Break!" bellows the commander, and a signalman jerks the balyards. A red, white and blue pendant, hitherto waiting in a ball at the topsail yardarm, breaks from its confinement and floats out on the breeze, announcing to all and sundry that the ship has finished the evolution and is now protected from torpedo attack by her crinoline of nets. "First ship, sir," reports the signal boatswain, and the men, once more at their general stations, grin contentedly and make contemptuous comments on the struggles of the remainder of the fleet. There is a short pause till these are ended; then another hoist rises from the flag-ship's bridge. "In nets!" is the order, and the ship's company is once more galvanized into action. Amid a scene of orderly confusion the huge booms return to position, shut back against the ship's side, the trails which pass beneath the nets every few yards are manned, all hands haul with a will, the mass of steel meshes is rolled up and secured on its shelf, and the bright pendant at the topsail yardarm is again broken by the signalman.

A short "Stand easy!" follows, soon ended by another signal. "Clear for action!" To the mind of the bewildered spectator pandemonium follows.
But it is only in appearance. Each man knows what he has to do and does it. Under the onslaught of the seamen davits, stanchions, rails, stovepipes—in fact, all things that can possibly restrict the fire of the guns—disappear with a rapidity that gives the impression of their being mowed down; skylights are masked by steel hatches, boats are turned in and secured, and in two or three minutes the decks are stripped bare and the men again fall in, awaiting the order to replace gear. This done—a longer job, but still accomplished with celerity—the last and most exciting signal of the forenoon appears—"Away all boats' crews; pull round the fleet."

The men tumble into their boats at the davits, the lowerers pay out the falls, and in a few moments the cutters, whalers, gigs and galleys are pulling for dear life, a midshipman in charge of each. On the after bridge the commander, waving two small hand flags which control the huge steam derrick, is lifting the plinthe and launch from the boat deck and depositing them in the water. Men drop into them, double and treble banking the long oars, and soon these are pounding after the lighter boats.

The evolution is a race, ship against ship. Who will have the first boat back? Who will have all boats back and hoisted first? Midshipmen, probably with bets on the matter, are urging their crews on. Every man is putting his back into it for the honor of his ship. "Telescopes watch progress from all the vessels of the fleet.
Here comes the galley—the captain's boat, manned by a picked crew and dancing through the water under the long sweeping strokes of the oars—first boat back. Again the tricolor pendant flies out, and the captain's "doggie" (midshipman) climbs out of the galley's stern sheets, beaming all over his boyish countenance.

The boats are hoisted as they return, the men left on board manning the falls and running away with them to the sound of the ship's band playing on the shelter deck. Presently all is square again. The boatswain's mates pipe "Hands carry on smoking." The forenoon's drills are over, and officers and men alike are in good humor, proud of the final signal received from the all powerful flagship: "Evolutions smartly performed."

River Gives Up Its Dead.

La Crosse, Wis., July 19.—The body of Julius Fay, city fireman, who was drowned in the Mississippi river while bathing, was found by William Stritt, a member of the department, who was searching the river, about seventy feet from where the drowning occurred. The funeral was held from St. John's church.

AN ARCTIC CAMP.

Peary's Canvas Tents, Which Were Absolutely Snow Proof.

"A man's first night in a canvas tent in the arctic is likely to be rather wakeful," says Commander Peary in Hampton's. "The ice makes mysterious noises, the dogs bark and fight outside the tent, where they are tethered, and as three Eskimos and one white man usually occupy a small tent and the oil stove is left burning all night the air, notwithstanding the cold, is not overpowering, and sometimes the Eskimos begin chanting to the spirits of their ancestors in the middle of the night. Sometimes, too, the new man's nerves are tried by hearing wolves howl in the distance.

"The tents are specially made. They are of lightweight canvas, and the floor of the tent is sewed directly into it. The fly is sewed up, a circular opening in it just large enough to admit a man, and that opening fitted with a circular flap, which is closed by a drawstring, making the tent absolutely snow proof. An ordinary tent when the snow is flying would be filled in no time.

"The tent is pyramidal, with one pole in the center, and the edges are usually held down by the sledge runners or by snowshoes used as tent pegs. The men sleep on the floor in their clothes with a musk ox skin or a couple of deer skins wrapped around them.

"The kitchen box for our sledge journeys is simply a wooden box containing two double burner oil stoves with four inch flues. The two cooking pots are the bottoms of five gallon coal oil tins fitted with covers. When packed they are turned bottom side up over each stove, and the hinged cover of the wooden box is closed.

"On reaching camp, whether tent or snow igloo, the kitchen box is set down inside. The top of the box is turned up and keeps the heat of the stove from melting the wall of the igloo or burning the tent. The hinged front of the box is turned down and forms a table. The two cooking pots are filled with pounded ice and put on the stove. When the ice melts one pot is used for tea and the other may be used to warm beans or to boil meat if there is any.

"Each man has a quart cup for tea and a hunting knife which serves many purposes. He does not carry a fork, and one teaspoon is considered quite enough for a party of four. Each man helps himself from the pot—sticks in his knife and fishes out a piece of meat.

"The theory of field work is that there shall be two meals a day, one in the morning and one at night. As the days grow short the meals are taken before light and after dark, leaving the period of light entirely for work.
Sometimes it is necessary to travel twenty-four hours without stopping for food."
